

3rd International Conference on Sacroiliac Joint Surgery

February 21 - 24, 2018
Tampa/Florida - USA

PROGRAM

Jointly provided by

DEAR COLLEAGUES, MEMBERS AND INDUSTRIAL PARTNERS

The SI Medical Expert Group (SIMEG) welcomes you to the 3rd International Conference on Sacroiliac Joint Surgery in the beautiful city of Tampa/Florida.

Hosted and co-organized by the Center of Advanced Medical Learning and Simulation (CMLS) you are attending a conference with a high scientific attitude, exploring one of the last unknown topics of orthopedic and spine surgery.

Following the success of our previous ICSJS-meetings in Hamburg/Germany in 2015 and 2016, we proudly welcome you to our next meeting on sacroiliac joint surgery. Internationally well renowned speakers will present their latest studies and share their knowledge about the sacroiliac joint, with the goal of bringing the SIJ community to the next level of understanding.

There is an undoubted need to perform surgical treatment in cases of painful degenerative SIJ dysfunction if nonsurgical therapies continue to fail. The introduction of new surgical techniques and medical devices cause new challenges to the spinal surgeon. The 3rd international conference on sacroiliac joint surgery aims to explore the questions of pelvic girdle pain and SIJ syndrome more deeply and to evaluate and develop unbiased diagnostic and therapeutical standards and guidelines related to anatomy, biomechanics, diagnosis and indication, physical examination techniques, manual conservative treatment, diagnostic imaging, surgical training, RCT protocols.

A review of the SIJ field for those who are not yet familiar with the diagnosis and surgical treatment of SIJ disease will reveal the challenge of indication, the pros and cons of actual surgical procedures. A cadaver workshop at the CMLS learning center will teach the different approaches to the sacroiliac joint and show the latest developments of SIF devices and fusion techniques.

There will be much room for discussions, and we encourage you to ask your questions, present your experience, your doubts or critics to raise a lively unbiased discussion and make this conference a success to gain a new perception of the treatment options for the often overseen painful sacroiliac joint.
